PUZZLERS.

Where can a man buy a cap for his knee?
Or a key for a lock of his hair?
Can his eye be called an academy
Because there are pupils there?

In the crown of his head what gems are set?
Who travels the bridge of his nose?
Can he use when shingling the roof of his mouth
The nails on the ends of his toes?

What does he raise from the slip of his tongue?
Who plays on the drums of his ears?
And who can tell the cut and style
Of the coat his stomach wears?

Can the crook of his elbow be sent to Jail?
And if so, what did it do?
How does he sharpen his shoulder blades?
I'll be hanged if I know—do you?

—Boston Evening Transcript.

The funeral of Mrs. Bertha Caywood last afternoon at the M. E. Church, South, was attended by a large assemblage of relatives and friends, the interment taking place in the Mayville Cemetery.

Our "New Peoria" Is What You Want

It has perfect working discs, fitted with dust proof chilled bearings, single draw bars that will not gather trash, staggered spoke wheels with 7-inch hub and 3-inch tires, continuous rear bar with truss rod to support seat and keep drill from sagging, direct pressure in rear of disc; a feature we claim will make this drill work perfectly in any land suitable for sowing grain and where other drills cannot be operated. A seat in center of drill convenient to lever is also furnished. Drop in and let us show you what this drill can do, and furnish you with the names of a score of satisfied users. One feature of our drill that puts it in a class by itself and makes it superior to all other drills on the market is the "Peoria Disc Shoe." You won't find the disc shoe on any other press drill on earth, the Peoria people have that feature cinched and they are going to hang on to it. If you want to know why we can grow more wheat to the acre after this drill than any other with the same amount of grain sown, come in and let us explain to you the "New Peoria Disc Shoe Drill."

CIRCUS DAY

"The Mighty Haag" Pleases All
and Makes Good at Maysville

The Weather Man evidently has it in for Maysville. Every time, or nearly every time, there is anything scheduled to take place out of doors at Maysville, it rains, or snows, or blows, thus putting a damper on the success of the feature.

Yesterday was no exception and the Haag Circus arrived here from Vanceburg several hours late, with murky skies and threatening rain to keep the crowds away.

However, the parade moved at 11:45 and reached Market street at 12:15 p. m. and there were several thousand people on the streets to view the spectacle.

The parade and the afternoon and evening performances were all up to expectations and Haag carried out every promise to Maysville people.

We trust that the Haag shows will come again to Maysville next season when the weather behaves better and there is no diphtheria or scarlet fever to scare the people away.

The circus pulled out this morning at 1

C. BURGESS TAYLOR

In the Limelight at Wheeling, W.
Va., as Progressive
Business ManStarts Movement For Industrial Arbitration

Wheeling Dispatch.

Quite a delegation of Wheelingites are preparing to attend the conference, which has been scheduled for Saturday morning by Governor W. E. Glasscock. Local men generally expressed themselves as very much pleased yesterday to learn that their efforts to provide industrial peace for West Virginia had been sufficiently successful to result in this call for a meeting of the coal operators, miners, representatives of civil and industrial organizations and other interested parties from all sections of the state.

It is quite a compliment to Wheeling and its business men that the entire movement towards the settlement of these industrial difficulties should have originated here. A little over a week ago, Mr. C. Burgess Taylor started the ball rolling at the quarterly meeting of the Business Men's Association at Mozart Hall on the South side. He made an excellent address on the matter, following Mr. Will Colvig's neat report of the work of the city committee on harmony along similar lines.

Mr. C. Burgess Taylor, who originated the state-wide conference idea, has been one of the hardest workers for its success. Speaking of his plan he said: "Personally I am of the opinion that the discussions of this conference should not be of the conditions and questions at issue in this present strike, but of suggestions looking toward the enactment of laws that will make such a condition impossible in the future."

"We desire compulsory arbitration. The Canadians have had an arbitration and conciliation statute in force for five years. During that time 106 labor disputes, involving over 100,000 men, have been adjusted and in ninety-six of these disputes the men never left their work."

"At the 1901 session of the West Virginia legislature a bill almost identical with the Canadian law was passed by the lower house but was lost in the senate. I am of the opinion that if Malcolm Jackson of Charleston, the author of the bill, will at this time take up the matter, the public sentiment will be so strong for the enactment of such legislation that the bill which failed in 1901 can be passed at this time. Mr. Jackson is in a commanding position which permits him to greatly aid this cause."

Mr. Taylor is a former "Maysville Man" and his friends are pleased that he is becoming a leader in the "New Dominion."

BRADLEY'S GREAT SPEECH AT LEXINGTON

Who are the leaders of the Roosevelt movement? Show me a man who applied to Taft for an office and did not get it and I will show you a Roosevelt man. Show me one who was in office and turned out, and ninety-nine cases out of a hundred I will show you a Roosevelt man. Show me a man who fondly imagines that he is a statesman, whose ability has been overlooked and he compelled to hide his light under a bushel, and I will show you a Roosevelt man. Show me one who believes in wild and anarchistic ideas, and I will show you a Roosevelt man. Show me a man who desires to destroy our representative form of government erected through blood, toil, and tears by our ancestors, and I will show you a Roosevelt man. Show me a man who is trying to produce discontent and trouble among the people, telling them that they do not rule, that they are wiser than their forefathers, that they who are totally untrained in law should direct and control the decisions of courts, that they should be allowed in the speediest and easiest way to change the constitution whenever they see fit, thus disregarding the rules provided in that great instrument for its amendment, and I will show you a Roosevelt man. Show me a man who has been a boss but been dethroned, and I will show you a Roosevelt man. Show me a man who has never been but who desires to be a boss and I will show you a Roosevelt man.

Penrose is denounced because he is charged to be a boss, while Flinn who has been in the same business but lost out heretofore is embraced as an angel of purity. Barnes is denounced as a boss while Perkins is held up for extravagant admiration. Gallinger is denounced as a boss while Cecil Lyon is idolized. And so it is we hear constant preaching of BOSS, BOSS, BOSS! The greatest boss who has ever lived in America is Colonel Theodore Roosevelt. For a long while he bossed the Republican Party and when at length he failed he bossed the creation of a new party, bossed his own nomination and is now trying too boss the people. He bossed both branches of Congress as long as he could. He bossed New York when he was Governor and the city of New York when he was Police Commissioner, and yet as great a boss as he was, while President, he stood faithfully by Penrose, Aldrich, Cannon and others, whom he now abuses. During his term of seven years, notwithstanding he claims the present tariff, which is very much below the rate of the Dingley Tariff Law in force when he was President, is onerous, he never at any time proposed to Congress to reduce it.

He denounced the Democratic party for its attack on the courts and charged that it was the result of inherited barbarism, but now he denounces the courts more violently than the Democrats. He denounced Mr. Bryan for favoring some of the very things that he favors today. He now denounces the trusts and yet behind him stands every great trust in this country, at the head of them being the steel trust and the Harvester Trust. The people of Kentucky know something of this Harvester Trust. The farmers know how they have been robbed, and judgment after judgment in the courts of Kentucky have been rendered against it on account of that robbery, and yet the head of this great trust today is the most potent factor in the campaign of Mr. Roosevelt.

Col. Roosevelt tells us that the dissolution and reorganization of the Standard Oil Company and the American Tobacco Company have proven worthless because he says the stock in the different Standard Oil Companies has reached an enormous value. This is true but the reason is that in the reorganization the people were given knowledge of the value of this stock which hitherto had been withheld from them. I challenge any man to show that since the reorganization of the Standard Oil Company it has in any way restricted trade. I challenge any man to show where under its present organization men engaged in similar business have been deprived of their rights or conspired against as heretofore. And so far as the tobacco trust is concerned, it is perhaps unnecessary that I call your attention to the fact that since the reorganization you have obtained for you Burley tobacco higher prices than ever known in the history of the Commonwealth, and that the banks today are filled with millions of dollars which have been paid to the farmers for tobacco which only a few years ago could not be sold at living prices.

HON. HARRY BAILEY.

Sunday's Lexington Leader recently contained a large and excellent vignette portrait of Mr. Harry Bailey, of Cynthiana, and added: "Mr. Harry Bailey, of Cynthiana, whose portrait appears above, is the nominee for Congress in the Ninth district and one of the ablest and most popular of the younger generation of his party in northwestern Kentucky. He is a lawyer of high reputation at the Harrison county bar and has always taken an active interest in political affairs. The Republicans are very fortunate in having such excellent Congressional material and confidently hope for a fine showing from Mr. Bailey in spite of the recent gerrymander of the Ninth district, which has given it a good Democratic majority."

Political Pickings

St. Louis Post Dispatch: Jane Addams is outrunning the Colonel in popularity on the Pacific Coast. Out there it is the Lady Moose party.

Chicago Tribune: In all his extended travels the Colonel has taken his voice with him, and he never has lost it yet.

Charleston News and Courier: A correspondent wishes to know what is the color of a Bull Moose. White in the South; black in the North.

New York World: Senator Dixon says "the Colonel is only the sounding board for the first fight" of the Progressives. Not at all. He's the Big Noise.

New York Evening Sun: The seven Bull Moosers expelled from the Republican National Committee appear to have been booted to Armageddon.

A FALSE ALARM

—Williams in Indianapolis News.

Pointed Paragraphs

A. C. Burton in Southern School Journal.

"Curiosity killed a cat," says the old platitude. But lack of curiosity has killed many a school.

A teacher who does not attend educational meetings and pay the fee, is a parasite living off the substance gathered and digested by others; he is a pedagogical flea.

If a poor teacher could make a good blacksmith then it his move. Both callings need elevating and it is seldom one man can do so much good by a simple shift.

A teacher told the writer that she had taken the school in district forty-one and taught it for five years. The ceiling was only seven foot high she said; and she never had saw so much headache and nervousness.

"Well," said Bill, "if I knew I'd teach several years yet, and if I knew that wages would increase as they should, and if I knew those country people would learn to appreciate my efforts, I'd spend a summer in school." What a hero!

A teacher said, "Now children we want to review a little; who fired the first gun of the Civil War?" A bright boy answered promptly. Then little Willie held up his hand and asked anxiously, "Who fired the second gun of the Civil War?" Both questions are important—I suppose.

Some teachers are like Tennyson's brook, they "go on forever," but unlike the brook they are exceedingly dry.

A straight line is the shortest distance between two points in pedagogy as well as in geometry. But be sure that you have two points and then go straight. Some teachers can talk straight on for hours and not have one point even.

Many persons grieve on account of the flowers that were born to blush unseen. What distresses me is the fact that so large a portion of our people are not trained to appreciate those in plain view.

If pupils are assigned 50 words per day, in spelling, that means one thousand per month or six thousand in a term of six months. No child in Kentucky can learn half so many. Whittier learned to use only five thousand in his whole life.

Cleveland, Ohio, claims to have the best spellers of any school system in this country and they only teach two words per day in any grade. The schools in our state will be born again when we learn how to assign lessons and to have them prepared.

Attorney General Wickersham will retire from President Taft's Cabinet March 4th next, it is announced, regardless of the result of the election.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube.
When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

The theory is that better roads will be made if the school children learn how to construct them.

Will Attempt to Control and Regulate Newspapers

Publishers of 28,000 Papers and Periodicals Must Make Reports

Postmaster General Hitchcock has issued instructions for carrying into effect the new newspaper and periodical law, first returns under which must be made by October 1st.

The law requires that publishers shall file on the first days of April and October of each year, both with the Postmaster General and with the local Postmaster, under penalty of the denial of the use of the mails, a sworn statement of the names and addresses of the owner, publisher, editor, managing editor and business manager of their newspapers and periodicals. Religious, fraternal, temperance and scientific publications are excepted. For a corporation, the names of the holders of more than 1% of the stocks, bonds or other securities must be given, and, in the case of daily newspapers, a statement of the average paid circulation for the preceding six months is required.

All editorial or other reading matter appearing in a newspaper or magazine for the publication of which pay is accepted or promised, must be marked, "advertisement," under penalty of a fine of not less than $50 or more than $500.

"Although this law was not favored by the Postoffice Department," said Postmaster General Hitchcock, "it will be administered faithfully and impartially. In framing the act Congress doubtless had in mind the leading daily newspapers, but it will also affect nearly 18,000 weeklies. Many of these publications are having a hard struggle for existence and will find the making of returns a considerable burden."

It is believed that this recommendation by the army engineers will have great weight with Congress and will inaugurate a more liberal policy in dealing with the Ohio.

ROBERT BAKER HEWETSON

In time of victory and happiness we hear the still small voice of God as he tells us that he is near. But life is not all sunshine—the clouds come in an hour that we know not of, and the storm breaks when we least expect it. This is God's opportunity to reveal unto us his profound love and above the crashing of the storm he speaks: "It is I, be not afraid." Were he not with us in defeat as well as in victory, in sorrow as well as in joy, the heart would have broken long ago. In this hour it is He who draws near to whisper, "Eyes hath not seen, nor ear heard, neither hath entered into the heart of man, the things which God hath prepared for those who love him." He was his Saviour in life and is his comfort and joy now. His is the blessed sleep of them that love God.

Robert Baker Hewetson was born in Tipperary, Ireland, in the year 1840. He came to this country as a lad of nine years to make his own way. The school days were over, and he stood a small boy in a strange land, but there throbbed in his breast a man's heart and a man's ambition. The years have brought their struggles and responsibilities, but his heroic courage and optimistic disposition never knew defeat. Thus he has lived these seventy-two years—a man used to hard work, a large hearted man, one who stood out as a real man. It was not strange that he should respond to his country's call in the dark hours of '61. He served the first three months and then re-enlisted and served until the close, with honor he was mustered out of the service at the close of the war in 1865. He has been interested in the welfare of the men in blue from that day until his death. He was a charter member of the William Nelson Post of the G. A. R., and has served in every office that the Post contains; yes, more than this, he has served his comrades as Department of the State Commander for the state of Kentucky. He has served in the army of God for more than four decades, and every effort was characterized by an earnestness that was his own. He was unusually happy that Sunday and entered with vigor into the teachings of the Bible school lesson to his class. In the afternoon he was struck down and tenderly carried to his home that his loved ones might watch over him for a little while. Then on Tuesday, soon after noon, the angel of death came and called him home. Like a soldier responding to the commands of his Captain, he quietly closed his eyes and responded to the call. The wife and three children were waiting on the other side. He leaves besides a throng of friends, these members of the Grand Army of the Republic—these men who made up so large a part of his life, and besides them his three children—Miss Daisy, Mrs. Minnie Rarden and Mr. Dutton Hewetson. All who knew him loved him, and thus a great crowd of loving friends offer their sympathy to his dear ones and go forth to live more noble lives because of his memory.

Mr. Hewetson was one whom everybody admired; in the Church, among the children, with his friends and everywhere. He was devoted to his loved ones, loyal as a comrade and friend, consecrated as a Christian. The parting is sad, but he is happy through the loving sacrifice of the Lord Jesus Christ.

It is not death to die—
To leave this weary road,
And find the brotherhood on high,
To be at home with God.

It is not death to close
The eye long dimmed with tears,
And wake in glorious repose
To spend eternal years.

It is not death to fling
Aside this sinful dust,
And rise on strong, exulting wing
To live among the just.

Jesus, thou Prince of life,
Thy chosen cannot die;
Like thee, they conquer in the strife,
To reign with Thee on high.

With loving sympathy,
THE PASTOR.

A Thorough Test of Mastic Paint

Not many have the opportunity to make as thorough a test to determine paint value as did the Pacolet Cotton Mills, of South Carolina, whose letter we are reproducing.

But you can profit by their experience.

There is an element of chance in buying anything until you know it has stood the test.

MASTIC PAINT is the result of 40 years' paint study, and is the finest paint that money and brains can produce.

Is it any wonder it has always given better and longer service than any other paint, whether machine ground or mixed with a paddle?

When you buy MASTIC PAINT you find the formula on every can. IT'S PURE. It combines the greatest durability with reasonable cost.

If you are a paint user don't experiment with cheap, uncertain paint or hand mixed keg lead, and be disappointed.

In another Northern area the deaths from cancer equaled those from tuberculosis.

Penalty For Playing Hookey
Boys and girls who play "hookey" from school should understand that the option as to whether or not they may remain at home does not lie with them or their parents. The law now provides that all children between the ages of 7 and 12 years MUST go to school, unless excused on account of mental or physical disabilities. If they fail to go, and it is shown that the fault lies with the parents, then the parents may be heavily fined. If they play truant without their parents' knowledge or desire, the child so offending may be sent to a reformatory.

CHICAGO, September 24.—President Charles W. "I will enforce the new rules if I lose all my stars and if it puts the team in last place." Mr. Murphy says if necessary he will hire detectives to watch suspected players.

FARM
Consisting of About 137 Acres!

Said farm lies on the South of Millersburg, about one-half mile from town on the east side of the Maysville and Lexington turnpike; the L. & N. R. R. running along west side. This is one of the most desirable farms in the county. It has on it a 2-story brick house, with new roof, and is in good condition; a tobacco barn and warehouse, with plank floor and good tobacco sows; stable, corn crib, buggy house, chicken house, smoke house and splendid ice house, three cellars; also tenement house, two cabins, and the best spring in the county, and two other fields with never-failing water. This farm is well fenced, and is in a good neighborhood as anyone could wish, and can all be plowed. There is about 35 acres in corn and the rest in grass. Anyone wishing a home will make a great mistake if they don't attend this sale, as there is no more beautiful situation on the Maysville and Lexington turnpike, and is in one-half mile of two of the best schools in the state, both male and female colleges, and only 7 miles from Paris. It will be sold as a whole, or divided to suit purchasers. Terms made known on day of sale.

J. C. JEFFERSON, Agent for Heirs.

At the same time and place, as Administrator of Isaac F. Chanslor, deceased, I will offer for sale on the premises a large lot of farming machinery, stock, household goods, etc.

Art Steel Tube Bed

SQUARE TUBING

Price $

Do you see how the square cross-rod at top of head and foot beautifully fits bed? Imagine this design with round tubing in those positions. Would not the result be "ordinary" and monotonous?

It is just such details of clever and artistic designing that have made our steel beds so popular. And the very large corner posts with brass caps all combine to make this an unusually artistic bed.

Moreover this bed is as good as it looks. Because it is made of drawn steel tubing, very light in weight—extremely strong.
